1. Lord, God of gods, whose bul-let-tins di-vine shine with a beau-ty fill-ing ev-ery line, out of the halls of Zi-on full of praise felt in a tem-pest show-ing all the ways you sum-mon earth and heav-en to the tri-al brief-ing a peo-ple braz-en all the whi-te.

3. When you're at fault and of-ferings have you burned,

18

one ex-tra bull won't make me more con-cerned, since, o'er a thou-sand hills my cat-tle flow , birds of the air are plea-sures that I know, and all that moves in scenes I could have paint-ed with which the bril-liant ar-tist is ac-quaint-ed.

since there are none that don't be-long to me!

Goats from their pens, with fat and jui-cy meat, blood I'm to drink, when an-y-thing I'd eat is only found in bush-els of thanks-giv-ing, vows made to please me, life it-self re-liv-ing.

though, when they charge you, lis-ten to the pause - since you con-si-der dis-ci-pline ab-surd, thrust right be-hind you ev-ery pre-cious word, with an-y thief or rob-ber: you're be-friend-ing, feel-ing at home, down bow-ing and de-scend-ing!
